Your "Manage your UW NetID Resources" screen will appear. If you are a student, the names of accounts will be different (Dante instead of Homer, and Goodall instead of Mead. Make that the following services are turned on:

UW Email Inbox

Homer or Dante account

Web Publishing

Mead or Goodall Account

Computer Labs

Dial-in Modems

Click on Continue. Rules for the accounts you have established will appear. Read them and then click Finish. Wait until you are notified that the accounts have been established.

Homer and Dante are used for Email. Mead and Goodall accounts are used for UNIX Computing.

Always to remember to shut down all sessions Windows Explorer after logging into MyUW before you leaving a public machine. If someone else gains access to your "MyUW", they can change your password, gain access to personal information, and more.
